Agenda

- ACT Aspire
- Paper & Quizzes

I wanted to show you that you can get more done without music playing. However, I have realized this is only true if you can regulate your emotional state. I either teach you how to do that, or I can't expect it...

So, because you (plural) cannot seem to listen to any type of music that is not your own here is the deal.

You can listen to music on your computer (or your phone if you have a C or better). I will circulate policing your computer usage to make sure that you are on task.

I was trying to avoid the policing, but since general music doesn't work.

Here is a better clarification.

- You CAN use .gov sites for background information such as how something works.
- You CANNOT use .gov sites for environmental impact information.

Why? Our government considers some facts about climate change to be inconvenient, so they have chosen to ignore them.
